10 YEARS OF THE SCHOOL OF BIOMEDICAL SCIENCE

Join us in celebrating 10 years of the School of Biomedical Science! What began in 2014 with just 12 students has grown to 197 students today. Over the past decade, 481 students have received their white coats and 167 have earned Diplomas of Distinction. Since 2018, CAL has also been nationally recognized as a School of Distinction by Project Lead The Way.

Alumna Caroline Rose (pictured top left), a member of the program's first graduating class, spoke at the White Coat Ceremony, sharing how the program shaped her journey and encouraging students to remember their "why." Caroline is now a physical therapist at Bluegrass Orthopaedics in Lexington, Kentucky and we were honored to have join this special ceremony!
