

Varsity girls basketball showing growth early

The varsity girls basketball season is well underway, with CAL holding a 2-8 record going into the new year.

The Centurions began the 2024-25 campaign with a pair of wins over Fern Creek (60-27) and Shawnee (74-52).

Since then, the team has faced a bevy of tough competition and dropped eight straight contests. The closest matchups came in a 45-42 defeat at Seneca and a 10-point loss at Lexington Catholic in the White, Greer and Maggard Classic.

A number of players have stood out on a Centurion squad that only features one upperclassman.

Freshman Candice Smith leads the team in scoring with 10 points per game on 48.4% shooting from the field. Seventh grader Kathryn Cline (6.4 PPG), senior Katie Hendricks (6.2 PPG, 1.4 3-pointers per game) and sophomore Lydia Wallace (5.4 PPG) have also provided significant offensive contributions.

Wallace has led the team in rebounding, hauling in 3.7 boards per contest. Smith (3.1 RPG) and freshman Abigail Bassett (2.7 RPG) have also been effective on the glass for CAL.

The Centurions start the 2025 calendar year with a pair of home games against Central on Jan. 3 and Lexington Christian on Jan. 4.

Click here for an up-to-date schedule, stats and previous results.

Varsity boys basketball looking to find form

The CAL varsity boys basketball team has navigated several moving pieces early in the 2024-25 season on its way to a 2-6 start.

The Centurions began the year without several key contributors with the varsity football team in the midst of its state title run and suffered a loss at Fern Creek in the season opener.

Now closer to full strength, CAL bounced back to win 67-62 at Seneca in game No. 2.

The Centurions also collected a 66-60 win at Anderson County in between a pair of competitive defeats to Lloyd Memorial and Anderson County.

Last weekend, the team traveled to Nashville, TN to play in a tournament at Montgomery Bell County. CAL dropped a trio of games there to out-of-state teams.

CAL will look to regroup after the New Year when it hosts Lexington Christian on Jan. 4 at 7:30 p.m.

Click here for the full 2024-25 schedule, as well as statistics and past results.

Photos: 2024 NCAA D1 football signing day

Group photos

Trey Cotton
University of Tennessee at Martin

Connor Hodge
East Carolina University

Ben Stotts
Austin Peay State University

Derrick Dixon Photography

"Quality photography at affordable prices"

www.derrickdixonphotography.com
facebook.com/derrickdixonphotography
instagram.com/derrickdixonphotography

502-314-7538

Seniors

