CHAPEL TABLE TALK: FAITH OVER FEELINGS

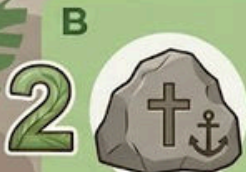

Discussion Guide: Following Jesus When Feelings Change

1. THE 'ROLLER COASTER' QUESTION

Our feelings can be like a roller coaster—up one minute and down the next. The crowd on Palm Sunday felt excited, but when things got scary, their feelings.

- The Question: Can you think of a time when your feelings changed really fast (like being happy one second and frustrated the next)? Why is it good news that God's love for us stays the same even when our feelings are "loop-de-looping"?

2. THE 'SOLID ROCK' QUESTION

Faith isn't just a happy feeling; it's a choice to trust what God says is true, even when we feel sad, scared, or bored.

- The Question: If you are having a 'bad day' or feeling grumpy, does that mean Jesus has left you? What is one 'True Thing' about Jesus you can remember even when you don't feel like cheering?

THE GOSPEL REMINDER FOR PARENTS

THE BIG IDEA: We often mistake 'spiritual goosebumps' for true discipleship. The crowd at Holy Week reminds us that human emotions are fickle—we can go from 'Hosanna' to 'Crucify Him' in a matter of days. The Gospel, however, is not grounded in our fluctuating devotion to Jesus, but in His unwavering devotion to us. He didn't stay on the cross because the crowd was cheering; He stayed because His Father's promise was true. We teach our kids to lead their hearts with the Truth, rather than letting their hearts lead them.
