From Mr. Behnken...

The Changing of the Seasons

As the seasons begin to change and the beauty of fall surrounds us, we are reminded of the beauty or change and the new opportunities each season brings. God's word references seasons many times. I think it helps give us a needed reminder to periodically step back from the tyranny of the urgent. The most well known and longest seasonal reference appears in Ecclesiastes 3.

There is a time for everything, and a season for every activity under the heavens, a time to be born and a time to die, a time to plant and a time to uproot, a time to kill and a time to heal, a time to tear down and a time to build, a time to weep and a time to laugh, a time to mourn and a time to dance, a time to scatter stones and a time to gather them, a time to embrace and a time to refrain from embracing, a time to search and a time to give up, a time to keep and a time to throw away, a time to tear and a time to mend, a time to be silent and a time to speak, a time to love and a time to hate, a time for war and a time for peace. What do workers gain from their toil? I have seen the burden God has laid on the human race. He has made everything beautiful in its time.

The focus on seasons should encourage us to value them. Your students have 16 seasons over the course of their high school years. Seeking the Lord's guidance for shepherding your young people effectively through each of these seasons is a sign of wisdom. I would encourage you to emphasize to them that whatever the season, our Sovereign and perfect God will make "everything beautiful in its time."

I found a prayer fitting to this theme (both as believers and as parents). It states: "Lord, thank You for our lives. Thank You for guiding us and bringing purpose into this season of life. We know You've designed a purpose for every human life. ... Let us allow Your Spirit to work in our lives, giving us wisdom to know wherever You're calling us and understanding that everything You bring us to is good. Amen." Attendance Reminders...

Regular attendance is essential to your child's academic success! As we continue through the school year, we want to share a few important attendance reminders with our high school families.

Reporting Absences: If your child is absent, please email hsreception@caschools.us to notify the school. We ask that this communication be sent by 9:00am.

Tardiness: A student will be marked tardy if they arrive within the first 15 minutes of class.

Absence: A student will be marked absent if they miss 15 minutes or more of class time.

Attendance Each Period: Attendance is taken during every class period, so students are expected to be present and on time for all classes.

Earning High School Credit: As a reminder, a Carnegie unit, which qualifies a high school course for credit, requires students to receive at least 80% of instruction in a course to earn credit. Consistent attendance helps ensure students meet course requirements and stay on course academically.

The most basic practice leading to success academically is consistent daily attendance. Thank you for partnering with us to support your child's academic success through regular attendance and punctuality!
