Red Yeti

Red Yeti is where history, flavor and creativity come together in a truly unique dining experience. Located in a charming 1881 building, they've been serving the community since 2014, offering a menu inspired by the rich flavors of Appalachia. Led by Chef Mike Bowe, a Culinary Institute of America graduate with deep roots in West Virginia, Red Yeti is committed to crafting dishes that celebrate the region's fresh, locally sourced ingredients.

In addition to exceptional food, the bar offers a carefully curated selection of craft beers and scratch-made cocktails. They pride themselves on using house-made syrups and locally sourced ingredients to create drinks that highlight the best of the region's flavors. Whether you're enjoying a meal or sipping one of the unique cocktails, Red Yeti promises an unforgettable experience that celebrates local culture, creativity and great taste.
